THE 5 PROTECTIVE FACTORS TO STRENGTHEN FAMILIES

THROUGH THE PERSPECTIVE OF TEENAGERS

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month
Wear BLUE to show your support!

Wear BLUE to get a clue child abuse is NOT something you should do!

Number one: try to understand your son, learning child development can be kind of fun!

Two: Let me tell you what to do; parent resilience will help you push through! In order to keep families strong in times of stress, you need to make sure that you decompress!

Three: make him your best buddy social connections keep your relationship strong so they can tell you if something is wrong.

Four: Let's walk through this door, concrete support for families is what children need more!

Five: Keep children's voice alive and protect how they feel inside- these are the five ways to provide a safe and happy home for everyone to thrive
